

□ Colby Native Serves as

Congressional Intern in Moran's Hays Office

HAYS, KANSAS – Congressman Jerry Moran announced that Brett Wilson of Colby is serving as a congressional intern in his Hays office this summer. Wilson is a 2006 graduate of Colby High School and a 2010 graduate of Concordia University, Nebraska with degrees in business administration and marketing. Wilson is the son of William Wilson of Denver and Carol Wilson of Hays.

“Congressional internships offer Kansas students a great opportunity to learn about Congress and the legislative process,” Moran said. “Brett is doing important work for Kansans and gaining valuable experience that will help him in the future.”

Wilson will return to Concordia University, Nebraska this fall to continue his graduate coursework in the master of business administration program. He will also be conducting an internship with Northwestern Mutual while finishing his studies.

“My time working for Congressman Moran in Hays has been a very valuable experience,” Wilson said. “I have been fortunate to gain important insight into the Federal government in relation to the people of Kansas, while also representing a man who truly cares about the people he serves.”

Wilson assists Moran with official district and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas.
